

Good evening, SJCA families, students and staff,

It is hard to believe that it has been a week since Governor Evers closed all schools in the state of Wisconsin. These are indeed unprecedented times, but this week, the SJCA family has proven to be stronger, kinder, wiser, more creative, more compassionate, and more resilient than anyone could ever expect.

I cannot thank you all enough-our board, our administrative team, our faculty, our staff, our students, our families, our alumni and our supporters-for your hard work, your patience, your support, your prayers and your steadfast faith in SJCA. Together, with the grace of God, we will meet the challenges ahead.

On Monday morning, we will roll out distance learning for all of our students. We know that this is a new format for many, but I know that our faculty, staff and students are ready. You have my word that SJCA will continue to provide our students with the very best Catholic education that this new format allows.

You have gotten many emails over the last week from SJCA (all listed on the main page of the school website at www.sjcawwi.org). We will continue to keep you well informed as this health crisis evolves, but for now, SJCA will leave your weekend uninterrupted. Take this time to relax as much as you can, enjoy some quiet time, hold your families close and hold your faith closer.

Stay safe, stay healthy and God bless,

With unending gratitude,
Bob Freund
